By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—A fair and warm day was no more effective in bringing out a crowd to this game than was the cold weather. Both clubs showed up well in preliminary practice and the game was called at 3:30 o'clock. Flanagan was released last night and Stratton, who has been taking a long rest, played first. President Von der Ahe has been negotiating with Louisville to-day for the sale of Latham, and it is believed Louisville will get him later this afternoon. The players and batting order are as follows:

St. Louis—McCarthy, r. f.; O'Neill, l. f.; Comiskey, r. b.; Robinson, 2b.; Milligan, c.; Boyle, 3b.; Duffie, s. l.; Fuller, ss.; Stivens, p.; Chamberlain, sub.

Umpire—Gaffney.

Second inning—For Louisville Weaver got first on balls and was thrown out stealing second. Raymond got first on balls and stole second. Gilligan struck out. Tomney also struck out.

For St. Louis Duffie struck out. Fuller hit safe. Stivens fouled out to Raymond, who seeing Fuller off first, threw to Stratton. Stratton muffed and Fuller took third. McCarthy flew out to Weaver.

Third inning—For Louisville Stratton flew out to O'Neill. Ewing bunted and beat the sphere to first. Shannon hit to Fuller, who threw out Ewing at second. Wolf hit to Fuller, forcing out Stratton the same way.

Gilligan went out from Boyle to Comiskey. Tomney flew out to Robinson.

For St. Louis Milligan hit safe, Boyle hit to Tomney at second, who doubled Milligan and Boyle. Duffie hit safe, and Fuller hit out next the right foul-line, and Duffie scored. Fuller went out trying for third.

Fifth inning—For Louisville Stratton went out from Boyle to Comiskey. Ewing hit for two bags. Shannon flew out to Comiskey. Wolf not on Robinson's fumble. Vaughn bunted and Milligan threw out Ewing at third.

For St. Louis Stivens took first on Tomney's foul. McCarthy flew out to Stratton. O'Neill went out from Stratton to Stratton. Stivens stole second, but Comiskey flew out to Wolf.

Sixth inning—For Louisville Vaughn went out from Robinson to Comiskey. Weaver did likewise. Raymond fouled out to Milligan.

For St. Louis, Robinson took first on Stratton's foul. Milligan and Boyle hit safe and Robinson scored. Boyle and Milligan advanced a base as the sphere came home. Duffie hit into the left benches, and Boyle, Milligan and Duffie scored. Fuller flew out to Weaver, a fine running catch. Stivens hit safe and took second on Gilligan's wild throw. McCarthy went out from Tomney to Stratton. O'Neill flew out to Tomney.

Seventh inning—For Louisville Vaughn went out from Stivens to Comiskey; Tomney from Fuller to Comiskey, and Stratton fouled out to Boyle.

For St. Louis Comiskey hit safe and stole second on Robinson's hit. Milligan hit safe, Boyle flew out, and Robinson was run out between second and third.

Eighth inning—For Louisville Ewing went out from Boyle to Comiskey. Shannon from Robinson to Comiskey, and Wolf from Fuller to Comiskey.

For St. Louis, Duffie got first on Stratton's foul. Fuller flew out to Stratton. Stratton hit safe. McCarthy hit to Raymond, who threw to Stratton and he got the sphere, returning it to put out Stivens.

Ninth inning—For Louisville Vaughn flew out to Robinson. Weaver got two-bagger. Raymond flew out to Comiskey. Gilligan went out from Fuller to Comiskey.

LATEST EDITION THE CHARGES TRUE.

Jefferson Barracks Has Been Badly Mismanaged for Many Months.

Convincing Evidence of Harsh Treatment of Recruits at the Military Post.

A Summary of the Testimony Drawn From the Offending Sergeants—Every Allegation Made by the "Post-Dispatch" Borne Out in the Court of Inquiry To-Day—Recruits Selected at Random From the Rank and File Tell Their Stories of Bad Food, Served in Insufficient Quantity—How They Lost Their Earnings—Foundation for Charges—A True Bill.—Slanderous the Rank and File of the Federal Army—Indignation at the Barracks Over the Publication of a Whole-Sale Defamation in the "Republic" of To-Day—Nailing a Lie.

In the series of articles written by the Post-DISPATCH reporter—recruit relative to life at Jefferson Barracks, it was charged that a great many abuses existed at that post, resulting from the failure of officers to attend properly to their duties and the conduct of the non-commissioned officers. The life of a recruit was made a burden during his stay there. The misdeeds of these non-commissioned officers, while plainly evident, were ignored by the officers, who shut their eyes to the rascality going on. They had their eyes suddenly opened by the Post-DISPATCH exposures and realized that something must be done to keep themselves from getting into trouble with the authorities at Washington.

At first they only laughed at the revelations made by the Post-DISPATCH, but the charges of abuses and rascality were so persistently made that they began to get alarmed, and the attention of the War Department was finally called to the fact that there must be something in the report.

The only way to find out the truth or falsity of the statements made by the Post-DISPATCH was to investigate. The charges were so clearly and openly made that the attention of citizens all over the United States had been attracted.

Officers who have been in the service of the United States for years state that never before have army abuses received such a stirring up and exposure, and it is universally admitted that such exposure has long been needed.

The charges were not based on what had been heard about life at Jefferson Barracks, but were made by the Post-DISPATCH on the evidence of a man who was on the ground, who had had personal experience with the abuses, and as a recruit literally passed through the mill. That the charges were true has already been amply proven, not only by men who had expressed themselves as being dissatisfied with the way in which affairs were conducted, but also on the direct testimony of men who had made their boasts that they could dispose of all the charges brought by the Post-DISPATCH, but who, when closely questioned, admitted that the abuses really existed to an alarming extent.

Not only the non-commissioned officers admitted these facts, but on the witness stand stated that they knew of the existence of the abuses.

The evidence already before the court can result in nothing less than important changes which will lead to the better treatment of enlisted men in the United States Army, but even should the changes be as complete as is anticipated the attention of Congressmen has been called to the fact that something must be done, and action will doubtless be taken by the government in the matter.

THE FOOD.

One of the principal charges made by the Post-DISPATCH was that the food furnished the men was often unfit to eat, and that the rations allowed them by the Government were not sufficient to sustain their health. It is to be noted that a recruit was issued to the company before it was issued to the companies. He said he did not think the men received sufficient rations.

Lieut. H. B. Houghton testified that he had received complaints from the men regarding the food, and had found them correct. He stated that it had been a custom for the non-commissioned officers to charge the men extra on their tables purchased from the company fund. The recruits were not given the same food as the sergeants and corporals. He said that the men's food was poor in quality, and gave as a reason for that the low price at which the meat was purchased, $4.70 per hundred weight.

Lieut. Dix testified that complaint had been made that the meat was bad. He investigated and found it to be the same, and ordered the kitchen sergeants to give the men extra on their tables purchased from the company fund. The recruits were not given the same food as the sergeants and corporals. He said that the men's food was poor in quality, and gave as a reason for that the low price at which the meat was purchased, $4.70 per hundred weight.

Lieut. Dix also testified that complaint had been made that the meat was bad. He investigated and found it to be the same, and ordered the kitchen sergeants to give the men extra on their tables purchased from the company fund. The recruits were not given the same food as the sergeants and corporals. He said that the men's food was poor in quality, and gave as a reason for that the low price at which the meat was purchased, $4.70 per hundred weight.

Another witness testified that the men in Company B received no sugar in their rations for a month, and that during that period none was ever issued to the men, although the non-commissioned officers had plenty. Pepper was not allowed the men at the time of the investigation.

The first sergeants of the different companies all admitted that different abuses existed.

Sergt. Cob of A Company testified that large savings had been made in the company's rations, and that the non-commissioned officers had been fed better than the recruits.

As to the quality of the food, Sergt. Wm. Doroch of Company B acknowledged on the witness stand that he used only two and a half or three gallons of water for the company, and that it was served without sugar. It was on his honor that the rations of Company B were dependent for their fare.

ILLIGAL DISCRIMINATIONS.

Monaghan, First Sergeant of B Company, said on the witness stand that there was no difference in the food furnished the men by the non-commissioned officers. After he made that statement Capt. Epstein asked the witness how it was that the men in his company had generally seen different kinds of food on the non-commissioned officers' and recruits' tables. The witness was stumped.

Ernest Munden, First Sergeant of C Company,

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a.m. to-day, for Missouri: Fair; followed by light rain; stationary temperature; south-easterly winds.

WILL St. Louis get the support of Kansas City for the World's Fair? We trust not.

What does St. Louis get in return for her kindness to Kansas City? She gets left.

There is a great deal of mighty good reading this week in the advertising columns of the Post-DISPATCH.

CONNECTICUT will not cut down her orchards, nor will she have to hide behind the barn when she wants a drink of cider. She has given a big majority against the proposed Prohibition amendment.

The discovery of America will be appropriately celebrated next Saturday night at the Exposition. Those who are in favor of holding the celebration of 1889 in St. Louis will please be present.

What was the consideration which induced St. Louis to surrender one day of the Pan-American Congress, and why does Kansas City return thanks to D. R. Francis among the citizens of St. Louis?

The Dallas News is showing the people of Texas how good a paper a Texas paper ought to be. It has recently published an illustrated twenty-page issue especially devoted to Dallas and its environs, which is as complete and handsome a specimen of newspaper typography as can be produced anywhere.

The wildest rumor yet started in connection with the location of the World's Fair in New York is one which ascribes to one of the Astors a full power to secure the location if he has to pay the whole expense of the enterprise out of his own pocket. If this is New York's reliance its outlook is poor indeed.

The idea that a common soldier is a dog or a vicious vagabond following from choice a servile and brutal trade, and entitled therefore to just such treatment as a penitentiary convict, is not tolerated in Germany, France or any other country that maintains a great and well disciplined army. It is not a modern idea, and when put forward as an American idea it will be repudiated with indignation and abhorrence by the whole American people.

On Wednesday, at 12:30 p.m., according to previous notice given in all the papers, solicitors with subscription books entered every industrial establishment in Chicago and all the wage-workers were asked to subscribe for small shares of stock in Chicago's World's Fair guarantee fund. If the subscriptions thus obtained were really voluntary that method of raising the wind cannot be objected to. But the papers spoke in such a dictatorial tone of the duty of every skilled laborer to subscribe, that the whole proceeding smacked of a coercive attempt to scrape the bottom of the poor man's meal-tub.

THE DAY'S RECORD.

Those who wish to know whether the news of the day is published first in the evening paper or in the next day's morning papers may learn something from the following brief record:

In the telegraph columns of this morning's papers are the following items which appeared in full in yesterday's Post-DISPATCH:

The new transatlantic railroad combination, the Studebaker fire, the Chicago slope, the Ross divorce at Halifax, the Knight Templar proceedings at Washington, the Indian Territory tragedy, the Chickasaw Squawmen decision, Supreme Court decisions at Jefferson City, the terrible voyage of the tramp steamer Unionist, and other smaller items.

Local items in this morning's papers, published in yesterday's Post-DISPATCH, are the Typothetae's proceedings, the Schaeffer sensation at the office of the Recorder, the Grand-jury report, the weddings in society, the filing of the first suit for damages by electricity, the Fair and Exposition, the markets, weather, law courts, Wall street, and the first announcement of a delegation to the Silver Convention.

It was suggested that the next annual convention be held in Boston on the first Tuesday in September.

Let us not forget that the morning papers omit to publish the full and accurate report of yesterday's investigation at Jefferson Barracks. This appears exclusively in the Post-DISPATCH.

This looks like a remarkable record, but it is not unusual. In fact, it is the rule that the news of the day appears in the evening paper, and no one need wait until next morning to find out what has happened.

IN A SOLDIER A DOG?

A newspaper defense of the oppression and brutalities that have caused 24 per cent of the recruits at Jefferson Barracks to desert naturally takes the ground that the recruits "are from the worst and lowest classes" and do not deserve any better treatment; that they are "lazy negroes, tramps, broken spendthrifts, convicts or lazy young vagabonds," fit only for "a servile and brutal trade," and not fit for that till broken in by hard treatment. Now this idea of the character of the common soldier and of what is due him is the parent of all that is wrong or oppressive in his treatment, and those who hold to this idea naturally have no fault to find with that treatment except that it is too easy and good for him.

Since the evidence taken at Jefferson Barracks has fully sustained the revelations made by the Post-DISPATCH's reporter-recruit we have, instead of the former newspaper denials, a newspaper defense of the system that prevailed there and this defense is based upon the proposition that the morals and character of the rank and file are not better than those of penitentiary convicts, and that the system in vogue at Jefferson Barracks was defective only in being less strict and harsh than that of a well regulated penitentiary.

Is this the authorized defense upon which the incited officers propose to rest their case before Congress, the public and the army authorities? Is this the opinion of the American common soldier and of the treatment he should be subjected to? Do they regard the rank and file of our army as a band of criminals to be ruled and treated as a chain gang? If that is their idea of our army, and they have no hope or wish to elevate the service to a higher standard—if they hold, as their newspaper defender does, that public opinion should be encouraged to regard the common soldier as a dog and his profession as necessarily a "servile and brutal one"—then we cannot too soon tear off their shoulder straps and abolish the regular army as a disgrace and a menace to the country.

In an interview published in a morning paper of October 1, Capt. Wint, then Commandant at the Jefferson Barracks, is reported as using the following language with regard to changes and improvements:

I notice one paper says that some reforms were undoubtedly instituted. Permit me to say that things are going on in the same old rut. There have been no changes made and we have nothing to conceal.

This statement has not been repudiated by Capt. Wint, and the sworn testimony given yesterday by sergeants of three companies places the author of such an utterance in a very unenviable light.

So Adam Said.

THE MASTER PRINTERS.

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW EXHAUSTIVELY DISCUSSED IN CONVENTION.

The State of the Trade Does Not Justify the Adoption of the Eight-Hour System—Opposition to the International Copyright Law—Committee Reports on Interesting Subjects.

The question of recommending the passage of an international copyright law occupied the attention of the Typothetae yesterday while on the boat excursion to Aiken, and the pros and cons were elaborately discussed. The general opinion was in favor of the passage of such a law, but it was recognized that a very strong opposition would be developed among the publishers. A. G. McCorkle, who spoke to a representative of the Post-DISPATCH on the subject, said: "It must not be overlooked that the price of foreign works, especially works of fiction, will be very much raised by an international copyright law, and that the view of the matter will be presented very strongly to Congress."

We are not the only publishers in the country. The 25 cent reprints have obtained great popularity, and these are kept up by the abettors of an international copyright. When people on the boat have paper-covered book for a quarter, they are not willing to pay 11.50 for a better bound copy of the same work, and the grade of books have had their profits cut off." The Typothetae reconvened this morning at the Ninth street hall in the Odd Fellows' Building.

President McNally announced that he would appoint the following gentlemen as a Committee on the Uniform Type:

Theodore D. Vinton, New York; W. Woodward of St. Louis; and A. A. Pugh of Cincinnati.

A communication was received from Mr. Charles G. Evans, president of the St. Louis Fair Association, inviting the delegates to attend the Fair, and stating that their badges would be all that would be required to secure them admission.

The Committee on Nominations made the following report, which was accepted: For President, Col. A. Moore; for Vice-President, Mr. George C. Jones; for Recording Secretary, Everett Wadde of Richmond; Recording Secretary, J. S. Cushing of Boston; Treasurer, A. G. Russell of Cincinnati; for the Executive Committee, W. H. Ward of New Haven, C. A. Murdoch of San Francisco, A. J. McCullum of Memphis, W. A. Shepard of Toledo, and W. C. Moore of New Haven.

Executive Committee, Howard Lockwood of New York; C. M. Tierman of Kansas City; Clayton McMichael of Philadelphia; Chas. E. Ladd of Boston; J. H. Rankin of St. Paul; A. H. Pugh, Cincinnati; E. H. Andrews of Rochester.

It was suggested that the next annual convention be held in Boston on the first Tuesday in September.

THE APPRENTICE SYSTEM.

The Committee on the Apprenticeship System made the following report:

We your committee consider it advisable to adopt an apprenticeship system, and to make some provision for the protection of apprentices.

We hold the opinion of this committee that some system which will tend to cover the workmen and protect him in his calling is a necessity, and we believe the continuance of a young man in the same office under fair treatment will have the desired effect.

An agreement should be made mutually binding and of mutual advantage to the master and apprentice for a term of five years, according to the age and ability of the boy apprentices.

2. That after due examination the boy should be given a probation for three months to ascertain his fitness, and that he may decide whether he intends to learn the business of not.

3. That the wages shall be paid weekly and that at the end of each year a stipulated sum added. At the end of the year closing his apprenticeship he should receive the maximum wages for his service.

Mr. Wadde of Richmond made a motion that the apprentices be struck out, and Mr. Russell offered an amendment that the words "or female" be struck out. The motion was then carried that the resolution be so worded as not to designate sex. This amendment was adopted and the resolution with these two changes was then passed.

NO STRIKE IN PROSPECT.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR WILL NOT JOIN THE TRADES UNIONS.

If the Letter Strike on May 1 for the Eight-Hour Law They Must Do So Alone—What Powderly Accomplished on His Visit—The Color Line Not Drawn.

LAST night the General Executive Committee of the Knights of Labor finished the business before them, and last night Secretary J. M. Hayes left for his home in Pittsburgh, where he will be busily engaged in making up his report to be presented at the annual convention of the Knights of Labor to be held in Atlanta, Ga., next month. Messrs. Holland and Costello remained for the purpose of attending the meeting of Assembly 818, which met last night. It was confidently expected that the compromise measures suggested by the Executive Committee and accepted by Assembly 7808 would be accepted and the entire matter closed up.

ASSEMBLY 818 REJECTS THE COMPROMISE.

Contrary to the general opinion, a strong opposition to the proposed compromise made itself manifest, and a majority of the members of 818 were opposed to the terms offered. After a long discussion it was agreed that the matter should be presented to the Atlanta Convention, and that in the meantime the boycott should be declared off, with all rights reserved. The ground taken by 818 according to one of its members is that the assembly from the first was acting under its rights and that there could be no compromise unless it surrendered some of its unquestionable rights. This the members were unwilling to do, and therefore refused to endorse the compromise proposed. The beer boycott will, however, be declared off within a few days, and possibly the whole matter may be settled, as C. J. Costello of Pittsburgh, member of the Executive Board, will remain in the city and attempt to prevent the controversy from being brought before the National Convention.

J. J. HALLER.

This morning J. J. Haller of the General Executive Board, left for his home in Jacksonville, Fla. Before leaving he said: "I have been over the entire work done by Mr. Powderly while in this city. The whole organization was watching with intense interest the progress of the Powderly fight upon Powderly by the Detwiler-Blake set. It was advertised that they would place the General Master Workman in such position that the other delegates of the anti-Powderly faction the last sign of it has disappeared. An action of the dissident element has done more to strengthen the cause than anything that has occurred during the last year."

THE EIGHT-HOUR MOVEMENT.

"Will the Knights of Labor join the trades unions in the strike for eight hours to be inaugurated on May 1?"

"As said yesterday, I do not know what the annual convention may decide upon. As a matter of individual opinion I can say that there is probably a strong element of compromise taken. We are opposed to strikes on principle, and while we all believe in shorter hours of labor, a great many of the most industrial men in our country believe that the time for a general eight-hour law has yet come. I do not know that the trades unions have decided on any strike, but when they do, I am sure that the result will be that the Knights will declare one by May 1."

"What truth is there in the statement that the strike is sharply drawn by the Knights of Labor?"

"None whatever. I can say that from my own personal knowledge, I come from Florida, where there are no Knights of Labor assemblies in that state, which have the same rights as any others. Nearly all the colored workmen in the seaport towns are members of the Knights of Labor, and the agricultural laborers there have been a strong and growing tendency to join the Knights. What is true of Florida is also true of all the Gulf States. Many of the men who are Knights of Labor and if a man can show a good record, we don't ask what his color is."

"Mr. Codd will remain in the city until the end of the strike, and I am sure such business as was left uncompleted by the other members of the committee.

VEILED PROPHET PROGRAMMES.

Where You Can Get One for Your Friends at Home.

The beautifully illustrated floats of the Veiled Prophet, together with a complete programme of the events of the gala week, where to go, what to see and how to see, and the costumes that society leaders wore at the ball—Tuesday were given in the last Sunday Post-Dispatch. Copies can be had at the Post-Dispatch counting-room, ready for mailing, at 5 cents a copy.

HE USED A CLUB.

But Claims He Was Justified—Other As-saults.

The case against Jacob Braun for disturbing the peace came up in the Second District Police Court this morning and was continued until October 19. Braun is a young man 25 years of age, living with his father at Broadway and Ferry streets. Yesterday afternoon he quarreled with John H. Siemens, 4819 North Second street, about the ownership of some pigeons. The two came to blows, and Braun used a club over his head to knock down a series of blows. The assault took place in a saloon between Broadway and Second, Camelia and Ferry streets. A short time afterwards Braun was arrested at the Fourth District Substation. He admits that he acted in self-defense.

BROKE HIS JAW.

Edward Brooks, 1018 Olive St., Charles street, quarreled with some unknown man in Rothschild's shooting gallery, Sixth and Elm streets, about 10 o'clock last night, and was struck in the head with a pistol. He was taken to the City Dispensary, where Dr. Jordan found that his jawbone was broken. The assailant escaped.

STRUCK WITH A STONE.

Two young men boarded a Lindell Railway car on the Montezuma avenue at Thiesen avenue about 10 o'clock last night, and refused to pay their fare. Conductor Michael Duggan ejected them by force, when one of the men, named Kelly by his companion, picked up a rock and struck it on the head, striking him on the left side of the head and inflicting a severe scalp wound. Both men escaped. Their descriptions have been furnished to the police.

SELFISH SAILORS.

They Save Themselves and Leave Helpless Women to Their Fate.

HALFAX, N. S., Oct. 10.—The statements of the captains of the bark Minnie Swift and steamer Geographique in regard to the collision at St. Pierre were both made public last night. Capt. Listwell of the Minnie Swift places all the blame on the Geographique, while Capt. Pousett asserts that the bark ran into the steamer. The utmost seriousness prevailed after the accident. It was every man for himself. The sailors took possession of the boat and were all saved, and the women were left to their fate. The self-sacrifice of the Swift makes a very startling statement. He claims that when he reached the deck of the Geographique he did not know that the Minnie Swift had run into it. Mrs. Smith, a 15-year-old girl, had been left on the sinking bark by the selfless sailors, and when he returned to it he wanted Capt. Pousett to turn back and make every effort to rescue them but he refused to do, and would not allow Capt. Listwell to take a boat and go to the Minnie Swift. Capt. Listwell says he knew that the Captain, or those in charge of the steamer ran him down intentionally, as the steamer was going at full speed at the time and had no reason for changing her course in the way she did.

JEFF DAVIS IN COURT

On a Charge of Disturbing the Peace—A Variety of Offenses.

Jeff Davis was in the First District Police Court this morning. He was charged with having disturbed the peace of one George E. Brown, but when the case was called Brown refused to prosecute, and the court was saved from another war.

Christ Stern came up on an unsatisfied judgment of $300 obtained April 25, 1889, on a plea of guilty to the charge of vagrancy, and upon which he was given time to leave the city this morning he begged for another chance and Judge Cady suspended execution of the old judgment on good behavior.

The bond of $300 was declared forfeited on account of the non-appearance of the defendant. The action was brought for a $500. The bond was at 12 North Seventh street, without a license, which charge both Dan and Charlie Daly were on Tuesday fined $300 each in the same court by Judge Cady. The court was kept open, and Dan Daly was last night admitted for the offense. His bond was in the sum of $300, with Wm. Henck as security.

The bond of Dan Daly was given and within 9 o'clock to-night to leave the city. Howell was arrested at Sixth and Chestnut streets last evening by Detective Fitzgerald and Officer Race. The police claim the prisoner is from Nashville, Tenn., and is known to them.

SEIZED BY MEXICANS.

Customs Officers Confiscate the Cargo of an American Schooner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 10.—Two weeks ago the American schooner Annie G. sailed from this port for the Mexican coast on a trading expedition. She was loaded with provisions and commanded by Capt. M. Olsen. It appears that only a portion of the cargo appeared on the manifest, and when she arrived at Altata, Mexico, a few days ago, she was seized by Mexican customs officials. They asserted that she tried to evade payment of duties by claiming a cargo of $1,100 as the proper thing. Capt. Olsen telegraphed Wright & Brown of this city, owners of the schooner, and was instructed to resist the seizure. Capt. Olsen will be tried before the hands of the nearest American Consul. Meanwhile, the Mexicans have possession of the schooner and are confiscating her cargo.

"JASCHA: A Tale of the Number Thirteen," by W. Heineberg and translated by Mrs. Emily S. Howard, will be concluded in the next SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

Clever, Circuit Attorney, appellant, against Ladies of the Sacred Heart, respondent, St. Louis.

SELFISH SAILORS.

They Save Themselves and Leave Helpless Women to Their Fate.

HALFAX, N. S., Oct. 10.—The statements of the captains of the bark Minnie Swift and steamer Geographique in regard to the collision at St. Pierre were both made public last night. Capt. Listwell of the Minnie Swift places all the blame on the Geographique, while Capt. Pousett asserts that the bark ran into the steamer. The utmost seriousness prevailed after the accident. It was every man for himself. The sailors took possession of the boat and were all saved, and the women were left to their fate. The self-sacrifice of the Swift makes a very startling statement. He claims that when he reached the deck of the Geographique he did not know that the Minnie Swift had run into it. Mrs. Smith, a 15-year-old girl, had been left on the sinking bark by the selfless sailors, and when he returned to it he wanted Capt. Pousett to turn back and make every effort to rescue them but he refused to do, and would not allow Capt. Listwell to take a boat and go to the Minnie Swift. Capt. Listwell says he knew that the Captain, or those in charge of the steamer ran him down intentionally, as the steamer was going at full speed at the time and had no reason for changing her course in the way she did.

THE LEAGUE AVERAGES.

BATTING AND FIELDING RECORDS FOR THE SEASON JUST CLOSED.

Mr. John B. Day and Associates Incorporate Another New York Club—The Browns' Championship Chances—Base Ball in England—Racing at Jerome and Morris Parks, Washington and Latona—Sporting News.

HERE is published below a table showing the averages of the National League players and clubs for the season which closed Saturday last. While the figures are not official they are taken from the most reliable sources and carefully prepared and will be found to tally very closely with the official averages when the latter are compiled. New York, it will be seen, leads the clubs in batting and Cleveland has the best fielding average. Brothers is again found at the head of the batting average with Jack Glasscock of Indianapolis and formerly short stop of the old St. Louis League Club a very close second. Then follow Tiernan, Gore and Ewing of New York in the order named. Anson of Chicago, Connor of New York, and Carroll of Pittsburgh are tied for sixth place. Dunlap of Pittsburgh, who was a few years ago one of the best batsmen in the country, is fifty-second, with an average of .257, and Pfeffer of Chicago, another batsman of former greatness, is sixty-second, with an average of .220. The great number of Boston leads the catchers, Ewing standing in fifth place. Keefe of New York was the most effective pitcher, Gruber of Cleveland second, and Clarkson and Casey tied for third place. The other players who lead their positions are Foutz, first baseman, Cleveland; Dunlap, second baseman, Pittsburgh; Denny, third baseman, Indianapolis; Glasscock, short stop, Indianapolis; Hardie Richardson, left-fielder, Boston; Hines, center-fielder, Indianapolis, and Maul, right-fielder, Pittsburgh. Richardson only played forty-seven games in left-field, Hines but twice as center, and Maul but twenty-four in right field. Of those who played more than 100 games Wilmett of Washington leads the left-fielders, Fogarty of Philadelphia the center-fielders and McGahey of Indianapolis the right-fielders. It will be seen that the infield of the old St. Louis League Club all lead in their positions except McKinnon, the first baseman, who is dead. Dunlap at second, Glasscock at short and Denny at third, all lead the list in their positions. The averages are as follows:

Rank.	CLUB.	Times at bat.	Runs scored.	First base hits.	Per cent. to times at bat.
1	New York.	461,937	192,727	130,579	.257
